Orr Partners & Davis Construction Provide Masks to Local Hospital

Reston, VA (March 26, 2020) – When David Orr, Chairman of Orr Partners, heard from doctors at Cornwall Medical Center that they were in need of masks to treat patients, he reached out to all Orr employees to ask their contacts in the construction industry for help. While most construction companies had already been depleted of these supplies, Davis Construction was able to provide over 100 masks to help local doctors in Leesburg, VA. The masks were delivered for immediate use on March 23, 2020.

“This is a tremendous and vital contribution to the medical response to this pandemic!! Thank you so much for your effort,” said Anthony Crawley, MD of Loudoun Medical Group.

“It’s not surprising that Davis stepped up in this time of crisis,” said David Orr. “Davis has always been a great example of the good a company can do when it focuses on the community.”
